STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

There have been numerous reports at every election in recent years whereby women voters have been restrained from voting in the election as a result of an agreement or understanding between different persons which have included politicians, persons representing political parties, the clergy and leaders of the community.

This process of systemically disqualifying women is a clear violation of their fundamental rights and amounts to an outright discrimination and negation of rights guaranteed under article 25 of the constitution of Islamic Republic of Pakistan. This bill seeks to address such barriers.

Moreover, the bill seeks to make available gender disaggregated data, as not only an effective, transparent and clear method of documentation, but also as a tool to identify the gender breakdown of voting structures and to identify and understand the number of women voting, the issues they face, how to eliminate them. Given that consistent and regular data allows for effective monitoring of progress or regression, it is necessary that Pakistan ensures that this kind of data exists in Pakistan to enhance democratic structures and procedures.

This bill is principally aimed at ensuring that in any election, in any constituency, if less than 10 % female voters have voted, the Election Commission of Pakistan shall declare the election of such a constituency void, and order re-polling within thirty days of the declaration of the decision of the Commission.
